“Our fulfillment process was incredibly time consuming, we had lots of inventory problems, and we were eating the cost of books we didn’t use.

“With Specialty Books we are so much more streamlined and efficient—it has definitely saved us money. Thanks Specialty.”

“When I came on board at California National University, we were handling all the fulfillment for textbooks, supplies, and other course materials through my office. It was incredibly time consuming and we had lots of inventory problems. Making sure we had the current editions on hand and stocking the right quantities required a lot of juggling. We really didn’t have the room we needed for storage and we were eating the cost of books we didn’t use.

“We started working with Specialty Books in 1999. Now, the faculty tell me what texts they want, I forward those requests to Specialty and they do all the legwork—checking on currency, availability, package offers and such. When the selections are confirmed, they create pick lists on the on-line bookstore they developed for us.

“The on-line store is great. Specialty keeps it all up to date and it looks just like our own website. Our students simply select the course and section for which they have registered and the right books appear on the screen. Students have all kinds of payment options. It couldn’t be any easier.

“With Specialty Books as our partner, we are so much more streamlined and efficient—it has been a saving to both the university and students. Now I have more time to help faculty with searches for course material.

“Thanks Specialty. You do a very good job.”
