The Graduate School, USDA provides training and education to professionals at all stages in their careers, offering training solutions including individual assessments, career-related courses and continuing education, as well as conferences, workshops and symposia.

“We found our bookstore to be an expensive, time-consuming way to serve our evening and weekend students.

“With Specialty Books as our online bookstore partner, we can reallocate scarce resources to our core functions. Specialty makes life very easy for our staff and students.”

“Each year, we provide career training for nearly 200,000 public and private sector professionals at our main campus in Washington, D.C., at our branch campuses throughout the country, and at international sites.

“At one time we had a bookstore in our main building but found it an expensive, time-consuming way to serve our evening and weekend students. We realized that using an outside textbook fulfillment company could provide many benefits, including allowing us to reallocate scarce resources to our core functions.

“For many years, our Self-Paced Distance Education Program relied on Specialty Books to provide textbooks to its students. As we looked for an online bookstore partner, we repeatedly heard from program staff about the excellent service provided by Specialty, giving us exceptionally strong references. We could not have made a better choice in a book partner.

“From the beginning, the Specialty Books staff focused on our needs. Their experience made the transition from our campus store to our online store very streamlined and smooth.

“We provide a booklist each term and Specialty does all the work, from researching titles, prices, and availability to preparing the website and handling student orders. They buy the textbooks, manage inventory and ship the books, so we don't have to. They go the extra mile by telling us about new and out-of-print editions, finding products that might interest our students or faculty, providing marketing materials, and developing solutions to specific challenges.

“It has certainly made the most sense for us to use Specialty's textbook fulfillment expertise rather than trying to do it all ourselves. This allows us to focus on our core mission—to develop people and to make government more efficient and effective. And we have grown to consider Specialty Books a true partner in that mission.”
